A SONG OF HATE

A song of hate is our song today.
Hatred of war and the price we pay.
Forty thousand lives and more

Is the daily price and the deadly score.
Forty thousand lives a day
Is the price of war that the world must pay.
Hatred and horror when hearts are wrung,
Hatred that clings and climbs among
Rich and poor through the world today,
Hatred of war we hear all say.
Hatred of slaughter, when hearts are wrung,
Hatred of misery on each tongue.

Forty thousand lives and more
Is the daily toll and the deadly score.
While a world is bowed in grief today,
It hates the high cost of war, I say.

SAYS AUTOMOBILES ARE MAKING FARM LIFE MORE ATTRACTIVE

Farm and Fireside has been offering prizes for the best letters entitled, "What's an Automobile Worth?" In the current issue the prize winning letters are published. Following is an extract from one of these letters:

"By this speedy tireless helper you have a bigger and better market for butter, eggs, poultry, fruit, vegetables, all the smaller products of the farm, and you don't need to kill a whole day going to town either. The boys can go to see moving pictures of the war, hear a concert by Sousa's Band, or can see the state league ball game, when the work is not too pressing. — The old homestead has become the most attractive place on earth for both the boys and the girls. The old folks are twenty years younger, and spruced up like young folks. They were going to retire to the city, but thought better of it when they bought the car."
